Parents' Code of Behaviour

Focus on your child's efforts and performance rather than whether they win or lose.

Encourage children to play according to the rules and settle disagreements without resorting to harassment or violence.

Never ridicule or yell at a child for making a mistake or losing a competition.

Remember that children learn best by example. Show appreciation of good performance and skilful plays by all participants.

Support all efforts to remove verbal and physical abuse from sporting activities.

Respect officials' decisions and teach children to do likewise.

Show appreciation of volunteer coaches, officials and administrators. Without them, your child could not participate.

Respect the rights, dignity and worth of every young person regardless of their ability, gender, cultural background or religion.

Try to support your child by helping with transport, umpiring and staying and watching their competition.

Parents are not to approach other children about a grievance they may have about the child's behaviour. Raise grievances with the coach at an appropriate time.

If the issue is unresolved, contact the Sports Co-ordinator at school to discuss the issue.

Coaches' Code of Behaviour

Remember that young people participate for pleasure, and winning is only part of the fun. Never ridicule or yell at a young player for making a mis-take or not coming first.

Be reasonable in your demands on players' time commitment and enthusiasm.

Operate within the rules and spirit of your sport and teach your players to do the same.

Ensure that the time players spend with you is a positive experience.

All young people deserve equal attention and opportunities.

Avoid overplaying talented players: the 'just average' deserve equal time, even in finals.

If players need to be 'lent' to opposition teams to make up numbers, this should be done on a rotational basis and in consultation with both coaches and team managers.

Display control, respect and professionalism to all involved with the sport.

Ensure you check with parents when determining whether an injured player can recommence training or competition.

Any physical contact with a young person should be appropriate to the situation and necessary for the player's skill development

Respect the rights, dignity and worth of every young person regardless of their ability, gender, cultural background or religion.

Students' Code of Behaviour

Play by the rules. Try your best within the rules.

Never argue with an official. If you disagree, have your captain, coach or manager approach the official during a break or after the game.

Control your temper. Verbal abuse and physical violence are not permitted in any sport.

Be a good sport. Encourage your team mates if they make errors. Shake hands at the end of the game and do not get involved in sledging during or after the game.

Do not bully or take unfair advantage of other players.

Cooperate with your coach, team-mates and opponents to help make it a good and a fair game.

Respect the rights dignity and worth of all participants regardless of their gender, ability, cultural background or religion.
